Product Description

The anti-color bleeding laundry sheets, also known as color-catching sheets or dye-catching sheets, possess several distinctive features:

Materials and Technology:

They are typically made of specially processed non-woven fabrics that are designed to have strong dye absorption capabilities.

These sheets utilize advanced nanotechnology adsorption principles, with a mesh-like structure that significantly enhances their ability to adsorb. Not only can they effectively absorb free dyes in the water, but they can also adsorb fluorescent whitening agents and other substances.

Working Principle:

They work based on the principle of anion-cation adsorption. When dyes are released from fabrics during washing, the dye particles carry a negative charge (anion). The surface of the anti-color bleeding sheets carries a positive charge (cation). When these oppositely charged particles come into contact, they bind together, preventing the dyes from redissolving in the water and staining other items.

The loose and porous structure of the sheets, resembling activated carbon, also enables them to adsorb cationic dyes commonly used in fabrics.

Usage Effects:

They effectively prevent colors from bleeding or fading during the washing process, especially when washing mixed colors.

They prevent light-colored clothing from being stained by dark-colored items.

They are easy to use, simply place them together with the laundry in the washing machine.
